When is it time to update a pharmacy benefit offering?

If your client's current plan isn't delivering.

Despite what you thought was a strong contract, your client's pharmacy costs were alarmingly high. As renewal looms, you're searching for the best proposal... but there are many options, and it's hard to know what to recommend.

Then rely on expert, data-driven analysis.

A free RxBenefits Enlighten Pharmacy Performance Analysis takes just 10 business days or fewer to uncover opportunities for meaningful savings via multiple PBM offers. Our average client saves 20% in their first year thanks to clean, client-aligned terms.

If their uncertainty gets in the way.

Your client feels almost ready to carve-out their pharmacy benefit – but they're reluctant to act. Lack of insight into contracts makes it hard to determine what's really competitive with rates, rebates, and terms – and their HR head is getting frustrated.

Then bring in the experts.

With our analysis, you gain immediate access to our team of experts, who can identify the best options from a contract and clinical perspective. That helps you quickly deliver high-quality, cost-effective pharmacy benefit plans to your client.

If they're losing money to vague contract terms.

Your client just found out that expected rebate payoffs never materialized because of terms and qualifications hidden in the fine print. And now they're taking calls with other benefits advisors promising to deliver savings.

Then quickly evaluate current and potential plan performance.

Our analysis evaluates your client's current plan performance against a virtually unlimited number of offers, including bids from the Top 3 PBMs. Our average renewal rate is 94%, so we help you keep your clients connected to the right solution.
